STORY: While Dr. Bryant Davenport worked at the Broadnax Bio-Institute, his true loyalties were to the international terrorist organization known as C.H.I.M.E.R.A. (Chaos, Havoc, Infiltration, Murder, Extortion, Revenge, and Assassination). His mission was the steal the experimental mutagenic gas being developed by the researcher, Dr. Bianca Webb, and then to make sure she would not live to duplicate the research.

Dr. Davenport planted a bomb in Dr Webb's lab but he had miscalculated the timer and it exploded while he was still in the lab. The explosion released the experimental mutagenic gas into the lab and exposed both himself and Dr. Webb. Davenport found himself changed into a large, monstrous reptilian humanoid with spiky scales much like the Australian thorny lizard which is also known as a Moloch, which is the name Davenport took for himself.

As Moloch, Davenport's once brilliant mind has become clouded. He can remember bits and pieces of his previous life as Dr. Davenport – mainly his criminal skills, his Herpetology studies, and his ex-wife, Allyson. He left C.H.I.M.E.R.A. to take on freelance work for a while. It was while working freelance he encountered Earth Master and joined his Dark Tyrants team.

Moloch hates Amphibia, even if he can't remember why (it was her experimental gas that created them both).
