

THE SYCORAX

The Sycorax appear to be skinless humanoids wearing mantles of bone, usually keeping their features concealed under helmets. Their bone exoskeleton offer 1D6+2 points of protection. Sycorax are fierce scavengers and raiders. They use huge asteroid ships to travel though space so they can conquer and ravage other planets. They are proficient in the use of weapons like swords and whips, the latter which can deliver an energy discharge that disintegrates the flesh of its target (Type A Damage).
