

VOGANS

The Vogans are humanoids from the rogue planet of Voga – a planet made of gold! Because of their planet's unique composition, the Vogans were a major threat to the Cybermen. The Cybermen attempted to end this threat by destroying Voga. Fortunately for Voga, one of the underground survival chambers remained unharmed and a greatly reduced Voga was blasted into space. This forced the Vogans to move underground and set up an isolationist policy. In the 26th Century, the Cybermen would once again threaten Voga, which had become captured in Jupiter's gravity well.
