Origin and Background: (Canadian) While Raymond Cole was born and raised in Canada, he has spent the last four years living and working in New Augustus city, located on the eastern New York coast. While he showed some talent playing high school football, it was the stage that was his true love. He left Toronto and came to New Augustus where performed in several theatre productions. Raymond received his big break when he was hired for a supporting role in WFB's radio thriller program, Chiller Theatre.

Raymond played only bit roles on the radio and spent most of his time working in the sound effects department. He enjoyed his work but yearned to be back on the radio. He wanted the limelight, even though he was quite talented in his work with sounds effects.

Raymond made some extra cash helping the WFB radio station clear out the junk from its basement. He found an old crate with no return address that had been sent to the station five years ago. Raymond was told to throw the crate out with the rest of the garbage. His curiosity got the best of him and he opened the crate to discover a strange pair of leather gauntlets. He tried the gauntlets on and they fit perfectly. As he was admiring the gauntlets, the garbage bin tipped and fell on Raymond. To Raymond's surprise, he should have been seriously injured but was undamaged. He knew the gauntlets were special and kept them. He knew that with them, he can become a crusader against crime, especially organized crime. To the citizens of New Augustus, he is the mystery man known as Crusader.
