Personal Profile: Mariana is the oldest surviving daughter of Professor De León. Her other sisters (Maria, Paula, and Zoe) and her mother (Sofi) all perished in the Zentraedi global bombardment. Her father is the only remaining member of her family so she can usually be found by his side, doting on him. She is unaware of the threats against her father. He has kept that as a secret from his family so not to worry them and in the hope that it will protect them as well.

Mariana has a love for music. When she isn't working or taking care of her father, she can be found at live music gigs in Ascendance City. She has recently began taking singing lessons to improve her technique. She has been writing her own music in her spare time (which is sparse with her current professional commitments).
